LITTLE GIRL BEATEN TO DEATH STORMS TAKE TOLL THIRTY-ONE LIVES

DESTRUCTION AND DEATH WROUGHT BY SPRING TORNADOES

MOST OF DEAD VICTIMS OF TORNADO THAT SWEPT
LOUISIANA-MISSISSIPPI

By The Associated Press. Spring storms left an erratic pattern of death and destruction in the south today, while on the west coast torrential rains had brought threats of floods. The list of known dead as the result of tornadoes, lightning and flood waters stood at 31. Most of these were killed by a tornado which ripped through sections of Louisiana and Mississippi. Other deaths were in Texas and Florida.

Heavy rains flooded cities in both northern and southern California and more downpours were forecast. In the Monroe-Lake Crescenta and Long Beach areas near Los Angeles, men were ordered to patrol duty as the section was deluged by torrential rains. In northern California motorists were drowned by high waters and railroad and airplane service disrupted.

A snowstorm marooned 85 automobiles overnight on the mountainous Lincoln highway near Bedford, Pa. Many of the cars carried tourists who had visited Washington's cherry blossom show.

Rain and snow brought joy to farmers of the Midwest. Rain fell in the eastern two-thirds of Kansas but missed the western third where severe dust storms raged in March.

Snowplows were in action in northwestern Missouri Sunday after a fresh snowfall. Near Kansas City the mercury dropped to freezing point, causing apprehension among fruit growers.

GLOSTER, Miss., April 8.—(P)—A tornado which blew out of the west over parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama during the week-end left 28 known dead more than 200 injured and property damage estimated at $300,000.

The storm did a long skip and jumped over the area, striking first Lake Providence, La., Saturday night. When it crossed the Mississippi river moving southeast it struck three times with added fury at Dolorosa, Gloster and Gilburg, Miss., and spent its force by dipping down around Mobile, Ala., yesterday.

The main fury of the wind was

SAID-HAUPTMANN STUDIED
PLANS OF LINDY HOME

MILWAUKEE, April 8.—(P)—Federal authorities today condemned new reports in the life of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, a chapter purporting to blast much of the Bronx carpenter's defense alibi to the kidnapping of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

The Rev. Michael J. Kallof, 48-year-old priest, told government agents that Hauptmann studied plans of Lindbergh's Hopewell, N.J., estate even before it was constructed, and that he had seen him often riding horseback in the wooded hills of Sourland mountains.

While he was pastor of St. Michael the Archangel church on the outskirts of Tinton, N.J., he said he became acquainted with Hauptmann as a frequenter of his riding stable owned by Leroy C. Thompson, who described Bruno as a "clerk guy."

On Thursday, place, said the priest, Robert Schumann, a Tinton architect, had a small office in the Lindy home, and was planning to buy a house there. He had a son, Bruno, who died Sept. 7, 1932, after

"Bruno was looking at some blueprints. I looked over his shoulder and saw what they were. 'Oh, that's the Lindbergh home,' I said. He folded them over to me. I couldn't see them. Schumann looked up and said to Bruno, 'Oh, never mind, he'll get right.' Schumann died Sept. 7, 1932, after

OFFICIAL SOURCES REVEAL NATION IS PREPARED PLEDGE

WILLING ACCEPT PRESENT
BOUNDARIES FOR TEN YEAR PERIOD

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER
(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

BERLIN, April 5.—High official sources disclosed today that Germany is prepared to pledge herself to refrain from war by subscribing to a series of non-aggression pacts with her European neighbors.

The Reich also was said to be willing to agree to accept her present boundaries for at least 10 years, thereby eliminating an immediate source of friction threatening peace.

Germany's offer to make these contributions to the stability of Europe, it was disclosed, was communicated to Sir John Simon in a typewritten memorandum at the time of the British Foreign secretary's consultation with Reichsfuehrer Hitler last days ago. Sir John was expected to place the German proposals before the three-power conference at Stresa next week.

Kept secret until today, the Nazi suggestions were disclosed with obvious intent as news arrived from France of the massing of French troops at the powerful forts facing the demilitarized Rhinebank. In this area Germany maintains only a well-trained police force.

Loyal Gets Invitation.

At the same time Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Reich aviation minister in an ironic address invited Pierre Laval, French foreign minister, who is to visit Moscow this month, to leave his train at Berlin instead of going to the Soviet capital "if the French want peace."

Officials made plain that Germany's willingness to forego her territorial expansion ambitions for the next decade did not signify she would abandon them entirely.

They said that despite Nazi efforts along the eastern frontier, notably in the vicinity of Danzig and Memel, they did not regard the present as the time to discuss frontier relations in view of Europe's agitated state.

"Hitler's offer to recognize the frontiers of Versailles frontiers for at least 10 years," the officials said, "does not mean we renounce frontier revision forever. We merely hope the principal changes can be made peacefully later."

Non-Aggressive Ideals.

In connection with the non-aggression proposals, it was said Hitler had informed Sir John the Reich would undertake pledges to refrain from interference in the internal affairs of other nations, agree to withhold assistance from any other aggressor nation and consent that the powers of Europe in event of trouble should arise.

These suggestions were advanced as a substitute for the eastern security pact originally sponsored by France. The agreements as contemplated by Hitler would first be concluded as bilateral engagements between individual countries, although they later could be assimilated in a more comprehensive scheme.

"For" Germany's return to the League of Nations, it was officially affirmed that the Reich's ideals of the subject are not yet far enough developed to enable Hitler to explain clearly to the conference exactly what he wants. The Reichsfuehrer stated, it was said, after the Reich's emissary had made inquiries, that the principal condition to Germany's return to the League of Nations is severance of the League's covenant from the Versailles Treaty and elimination of all vestiges of German military.

Train Crew Cowed.

Trainmen aboard were cowed to prevent them from warning the engine crew that the quarter went through with the railway. Passengers said that in each car, they apparently used the same tactics, firing a shot into the ceiling and shouting they would "shoot the brains out" of any passengers who resisted them. M. L. Robinson, a Pullman porter, was forced to accompany them as they passed from car to car. He was compelled to lock doors after the train stopped.

Members of the crew said about $300 was obtained from passengers in the club car. Before stepping into the next car, where Kerr was shot, they made the passengers kneel on the floor.

Mrs. Helen Bolton, of Chicago, on route to Hot Springs, Ark., outwitted the robbers by tossing her purse under a seat. The gunman recited Mrs. S. B. Graham of Shreveport, La., who was traveling with two children, but made no effort to molest her.

The train which left Chicago at 6:05 p. m. and which was bound for Louisiana resort cities, carried two mail cars, ordinarily loaded with valuable parcels, but no attempt was made to rob them.

Death Is Penalty Two California Kidnap Convicts

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., April 5.—(P)—Death on the gallows, a superior court jury has decided, is the price Alex McKay and Joe Kristy, San Quentin convicts, must pay for kidnapping members of the state prison board last January 16 in an attempt to escape.

Each was convicted on 11 counts, including kidnapping and kidnaping for the purpose of robbery, both of which carry the death penalty under California's dexterous new law.

WIDESPREAD HUNT FOR TWO-GUN CREW WHO ROBBED TRAIN

CRACK 'LOUISIANE' IS VICTIM OF SWASHBUCKLERS; SMALL LOOT REPORTED

KANKAKEE, Ill., April 5.—(P)—Four swashbuckling two-gun bandits who held up nearly forty persons aboard the crack Gulf coast bound Illinois Central train, the "Louisiane," were sought in a wide-spread man-hunt today. Their loot totaled only about $843, railroad reports said.

Taking virtual command of the train in a reign of terror, cowing those aboard for some two minutes, as they rode southward out of Chicago last night, the gunmen, each armed with two .45 calibre pistols, escaped after shooting and wounding one man, and commandeering the automobile of Edward Goetzler, 26, of Kankakee, Ill., whom they kidnapped.

The wounded man was George Kerr, a salesman from Chicago, shot in the hip when he resisted being gunned in the apparent effort to make him "play along." He was taken to a local hospital. His condition, however, was not regarded as serious.

One of the gunmen shot him again when he lurched against a robber. The bullet penetrated his billfold, which contained $40. He was compelled to surrender the money, but the punctured wallet was returned.

Terrible Passengers.

Firing several times to put the fear of death into their victims, the gunmen, three of whom donned masks shortly before the train reached Kankakee, carried out the raid with the precision of a typical Jesse James robbery of days gone by, terrorizing the brakeman and a porter, and systematically robbing the passengers in the buffet car and the coaches. The quartet was believed to have headed the train to Chicago about 10 p. m.

More Bills Accepted.

Although the period for introducing bills in the house ended Saturday, Senator Carl Stevenson, authorized acceptance of proposals filed Saturday, bringing the number of house bills to 957 and proposed constitutional amendments to 47. Starting tomorrow, bills can be introduced only on a four-fifths of votes of the membership.

The house resumed consideration of the departmental appropriation bill after defeating a resolution proposing inquiry into the natural resources tax situation.

Representative Hollis Frazer of Franklin, sponsor of the resolution, said the investigation was necessary to determine if natural resources were being fairly taxed.

Included in the bills that came in under the wire was one by Representative R. Emmett Morse of Houston. It would prohibit rents on unoccupied houses.

The bill would require that each bedroom have 12 square feet of window space, that doors and windows be equipped with screens, that floors be substantial and the house weatherproof and that running water be furnished where available.

The house adopted a resolution to direct that liquor seized by rangers be turned over to the state board of control for use in elections.

A resolution to authorize appointment of a committee to select a state poet laureate was approved.

ATTEMPT LIBERATE DALLAS DEATH CELL INMATES FRUSTRATED

DALLAS YOUTH ATTACKS JAILED WHEN BREAKFAST BROUGHT BUT IS SUBDUED

DALLAS, April 5.—(P)—An 18-year-old prisoner's daring attempt to liberate six prisoners from the Dallas county jail was frustrated today when Jailer Dick Warren overpowered the youth after he had been struck on the head with a piece of piping.

The prisoners, although confined in the death cells, were not under death sentences.

The escape attempt was made from the same cell block which Harvey Bailey, a Charles F. Urschel kidnaper, fled nearly two years ago.

An 18-year-old Dallas youth, arrested three weeks ago as a suspect in an automobile theft and robbery, tore a piece of piping from the lavatory plumbing and slugged Warren over the head when the jailer, in company with two negro trustees, brought him back to the prisoners.

Warren said when he opened the door to the doorway in which the youth and another prisoner were confined, the youth walked to the jailer, banded him some money and asked him to buy some stamped envelopes for him.

As Warren reached for the key, the youth grabbed at the keys which the jailer held in his right hand and at the same time swung the heavy lead pipe, which he held behind him.

The pipe struck Warren's head, inflicting a deep gash.

Youth Is Subdued.

Warren grabbed with the prisoner and swung the outer door open and the fighting started.

Harvey Bailey, held here after his arrest last year, was captured by the kidnapping of Urschel, Oklahoma City millionaire, walked out of the same cell block in a spectacular escape, wielding a smuggled gun.

He was captured later in the day in Oklahoma and subsequently was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. He now is confined in the Alcatraz Island prison.

Held in the death cell were:

Kelley Goode, held for auto theft and placed in the death cell for an infraction of jail rules. Jailors said he burned a fellow prisoner's foot while the latter was in jail.

Ted Walters, held for return to the Texas penitentiary at Huntsville, from which he escaped last January.

As the train slowed down for the stop at Kankakee, the four men leaped off, and disappeared, later to be joined by a confederate. Two of them seized Goetzler near the hospital only a few minutes before Kerr, their wounded victim, was brought in for treatment.

After the three other gunmen joined them they forced Goetzler to drive to a point near Wheaton, where they dumped him from his machine, and fled in his car.

Posses were thrown into the hunt almost immediately, but no trace of the desperadoes was found. Some investigators believe they are hiding in Chicago.

LUDENDORFF

Hitler, too, wanted the Nazi movement built up into a political party, but that veteran militarist, disagreeing, declared after the brown shirts came into power that Germany would be divided into professed party members and non-members.

Since that time has lost no opportunity to berate the Nazis and continue his battle so vigorously after Hitler assumed office that the Nazi government suppressed his weekly organ, Volkswoche.

An Anti-Christian.

LONDON, April 8.—(P)—The Munich correspondent of Reuter's reports today that Gen. Erich Ludendorff, breaking a long silence of the eve of his 70th birthday, proudly styled himself "an anti-Christian and a heathen" and placed the blame on Christianity for Germany's collapse in 1918.

The decision was on the appeal of Roger Kesterson and Bernford Robert of Tulsa from a ruling of Federal District Judge Franklin E. Kennemar of the northern district of Oklahoma.

"Only through the complete re-nunciation of Christianity will the German people achieve the unit needs and which would have saved it from the trying days of 1918."

The scholastic census of Navarro county has been completed, it was announced Monday morning by G. H. Brown, county superintendent. Mr. Brown stated that all reports must be in his office by Saturday, April 13.

DROUGHT PREVENTS PASTURING SHEEP; DROWN; NO GRASS

DROUGHT AVERAGES LOCAL CREW SOARED DURING HITTING BEE

DALLAS, April 5.—(P)—Due to drought, T. A. Kincaid, president of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, has been unable to pasture his sheep for many months. He fed them as usual the other night, and one flock settled down for the night in an arroyo, dry as the remainder of this area.

The night's inch of rain fell 25 miles away on the Big Lake Ranch divide. Water rushed down the draw and the sheep drowned.

Kincaid still has to feed the remainder of his flock, for the water brought no grass.

Senator Grady Woodruff of Denton withdrew an amendment which proposed a gas conservation plan as an addition to the bill. He explained Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, sponsor of the oil bill, promised to aid in passage of a gas conservation bill which had cleared the house.

Amendments Are Tabled.

The amendment by Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth to eliminate concurrent jurisdiction in Travis county was tabled 15 to 10, after sharp debate. The proposal of Senator Will M. Martin of Hillsboro "to make market demand work for the public benefit as well as the oil industry" was passed, 10 to 9.

If you say they can't produce oil when the price is under $1, ban on the market demand ought to be allowed to protect the public by requiring them to sell it when the price is at $1.50," Martin argued.

Meanwhile, bills to provide an attorney and bond expert for the permanent school fund were introduced in the house by representatives.

I. C. COMMISSION OFFICIAL PROBING DEPARTMENT LEAK

WALL STREET SATURDAY LEARNED OF FINANCIAL DE- CISIONS FOR MONDAY

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(P)— Interstate Commerce Commission officials today began an investigation of a "leak" through which Wall Street learned last Saturday of its approval of extension of Reconstruction Corporation to the New York Central railroad and approval of a new line to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The two decisions were made public today. Usually, it requires four to six days for mimeographing or printing between the time decisions are reached and the time they are made public.

Complying with the law, the corporation found that neither railroad was in need of financial reorganization. It approved extension of $15,800,000 of RFC loans to the New York Central maturing during 1935.

In the Baltimore and Ohio case the commission approved a loan of $5,000,000 and the extension for two years of a $7,000,000 loan maturing April 8.

The reports that reached Wall Street were so detailed that news stories published yesterday from that source listed even the collateral to be posted by the railroad companies.

Vallye Lou Cheney Painfully Injured Car Door Accident

Miss Vallye Lou Cheney, Corsicana High school student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Cheney, sustained a cut on the right wrist Sunday afternoon when she accidentally broke a car door glass, slashing her wrist.

The injured girl was rushed to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic where it was found the leaders veins and arteries had been severed. An operation was performed and the arm put in a cast.

Ever since his return from his breath-taking fortnight's tour of five continental countries from Paris to Moscow, the lord privy seal's report has been anxiously awaited by his colleagues in the diplomatic service.

Since Eden must stay at home, increasing pressure is being brought on Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to go to Stressa with Sir John Simon, the foreign secretary.

Important decision regarding Britain's scheme for a general collective security system for Europe, the League of Nations attitude toward Germany, the proposed division of forces affecting Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, and the possibility of getting Germany to return to the League of Nations are expected to be made at Stressa.

Hillier Sends Best Wishes.
BERLIN, April 8.—(P)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler today sent a telegram to Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, extending to the diplomat his best wishes for a quick recovery from the heart strain which has compelled him to withdraw from his governmental activities for a complete rest.

DANZIG

The outcome was regarded as having far greater significance for the Nazi program than its mere effect on the division of parties in the Volkstag.

Nazi leaders, on the other hand, believe the result would have been far different if the issue had been that of a clear-cut plebiscite for or against reunion with Germany.

The final election figures were withheld for several hours after the tabulation reportedly while the Nazis in charge of the election campaign communicated with Berlin. Finally, Albert Forster, the Gauleiter or district leader, stepped to a microphone to announce the results which brought scant expressions of enthusiasm from Nazi throats.

How Parties Rated.

The figures showed that the Nazis received 139,200 of the 32,275 votes cast for seven parties listed on the ballot.

The totals for the other parties were: Social Democrats 87,530; Communists 6,880; Centrists 80,059; German Nationalists 9,760; Front Fighters 850; Polish 8,100.

The Nazis actually gained 32,681 votes over their 1933 total and retained their control of parliament. But they had staked their party prestige on their hopes for a two-year term.

To this end they brought into the campaign Reichsleiter Hitler's foremost Neutensatz, including Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Göring, aviation minister; Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda; Joseph Buerckel, commissioner for the Saar, and Rudolf Hess, Hitler's personal adjutant.

HAUPTMANN

"Moral duty" spurred him, he said, to reveal his acquaintance with the man under death sentence for kidnapping the Lindbergh baby, despite the priest's fear of notoriety and harm. He was pastor of the Trenton church from 1926 to 1931, and since has been pastor of St. Josaphat's church in Cudahy, Milwaukee, suburb.

13. J. S. Callicutt (present judge). The district was composed of Navarro, Limestone and Freestone counties until during the term of Judge Davis when oil development caused Navarro county to be made into one district and the other counties were transferred to other districts.

Served Fourteen Years.

Judge Callicutt said Judge Scarborough served 14 years and 20 years as district judge the longest period of judge has held office. He outlined much of the "landmark" litigation tried by the local bar and reviewed the writing of the ordinances of the city of Corsicana on paving, etc., which later were upheld by the higher courts. He spoke of the late judge trying oil royalty suits, contracts, etc., with signal success, including compensation law.

The speaker stated that many trials were declared in other places during oil booms and Texas Rangers or outside help was asked for to handle the situations, but Judge Scarborough stated on many occasions that Navarro county could handle her own affairs and did. Additional judges were not asked to help in the great oil boom days. Levee district litigation also was tried by Judge Scarborough.

Judge Rufus Hardy, only living former district judge of the Thirteenth judicial district and only former congressman of the sixth congressional district was invited to be present at the memorial exercises.

Recalls Old Timers.

President Emeritus J. M. Blanton spoke briefly and said he was the oldest lawyer in this section and had been a citizen of Navarro county for 62 years. He recalled many of the oldtime lawyers—Captain Halbert, Colonel Mills, Colonel Winkler, Colonel Bullock, Colonel Simkins, Colonel Judge Wood, Pendergast, Frost, Barry and others.

RESCUE

Corsicana, Texas, April 7, 1935.

To Honorable Beauford H. Jester, president of the Navarro County Bar Association:

Your committee appointed to prepare and present resolutions to this association commemorating the life, character, and career of our deceased member, Judge Hawkins Scarborough, respectfully submits the following:

Thomas Hawkins Scarborough was born on the twenty-fourth day of November, 1886, near Raleigh in Navarro county. He was the son of John Matthews Scarborough and Mary Catherine Hawkins, and was one of a family of six children to reach maturity, consisting of two boys and four girls, namely, John Scarborough, deceased, Mrs. Annie Morgan, deceased, and Mrs. Willie Briggs, Mrs. Pearl Hightower, and Mrs. Kate Morgan, all of Corsicana. Judge Scarborough's forebears were fine old pioneer Southern stock. Both of his parents were natives of Alabama, and come to Texas shortly after their marriage.

LIVED ON FARM.

When still a boy, some nine years of age, the family purchased and removed to a farm near Zion's Rest, where Judge Scarborough spent his boyhood days and grew to young manhood amid the scenes and with the tasks and pleasures of a farm boy. He attended the common school at Zion's Rest until he reached the high school at which time he entered the Corsicana high school from which he graduated on June fourth, 1903, at the age of seventeen. Before graduating from high school he had already resolved to become a lawyer. Realizing that it would be necessary for him to procure his college education through his own efforts he took the required examinations and obtained a teacher's certificate, and alternated his attendance at the University of Texas with school teaching, thus providing means for his legal education. His teaching was done in the common schools of Navarro county, consisting of two years at Chatfield and one year at Oak Valley. He began his attendance in 1906, and was graduated from the School of Law at the University of Texas with the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1911.

Returned To Corsicana.

After his graduation from the University of Texas he returned to Corsicana to enter into the practice of his chosen profession. He became associated with Callcott and Call, a firm composed of Judge J. S. Callicutt and the lamented E. O. Call. Upon the retirement of Mr. Call from the active practice the partnership of Callicutt and Johnson was formed, the latter being our distinguished congressman, Luther A. Johnson, and Judge Scarborough continued his association with that firm.

At about this time the city of Corsicana had resolved upon a program of expansion consisting in the main of the construction of a fresh water supply, the establishment of a modern sanitary system, and the rehabilitation of the public schools. Judge Scarborough was induced to offer himself for the office of city attorney to assist in carrying out the far-reaching municipal program then in progress. He was elected and occupied the office of city attorney for four years, serving from 1915 to 1919.

The tall Lincoln-esque figure of Judge Scarborough, his quaint mannerisms, his homely and pungent expressions and his friendly mein will be greatly missed. We cannot expect to fill the place left vacant by the untimely loss of such men. We can only hope to become accustomed to doing without one of its most able and distinguished members, the state and county an honored native son and worthy citizen, this association a valued member, and his family a faithful and loving husband and father.

Second: That as a man, a lawyer, a judge, and a citizen, he was capable, honest, fearless, and fair, and as such we respect his life and work, venerate his virtues, and mourn his passing.

Third: That a copy of these resolutions be presented to his bereaved family, with whom we deeply sympathize, and with whom we share an irreparable loss.

Fourth: That a copy of these resolutions be tendered to the press for publication.

Fifth: That the foregoing resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the district court of Navarro county, in the volume provided for such purposes, where they may remain a permanent record and tribute to the life and career of our departed member.

Respectfully submitted,

Signed: Wayne R. Howell, chairman; R. B. Molloy, T. W. Lovett, C. L. Jester, committee on ferred himself as a candidate for the office of district judge of Navarro county. The people looked with favor upon his candidacy and he was elected. He took office on the eleventh day of December, 1919. He was three times re-elected. His service upon the bench extended over a period of fourteen years, and he was buried on the day immediately preceding the opening of what would have been his fifteenth year as district judge.

MARRIED IN 1922.

On the twenty-second day of August, 1922, Judge Scarborough was married to Bessie Miller, also a native of Navarro county, and a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Miller. To their marriage were born two children, Thomas Hawkins Scarborough Jr., aged ten years, and Ann, Scarborough, aged seven years.

Judge Scarborough's parents, his only brother, and one sister pre-deceased him. His brother, John Scarborough, was a graduate of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. He was a distinguished young mining engineer, and lost his life in a mine fire in Unsankinko, Cherokeen.

Judge Scarborough died after a brief illness on the fifth day of January, 1935, at his home in Corsicana, and was buried on Sunday, the sixth day of January, 1935, in Oakwood cemetery. By request his funeral services were simple, consisting only of scripture reading, prayer, and a brief eulogy at the grave. His interment was largely attended by a great company of persons from near and distant points, and from all walks of life. The floral offerings were profuse and gave mute but beautiful testimony of the general affection in which he was held. Messages of condolence came from every section of Texas, and from beyond the confines of the state, and included messages from many members of the judiciary and from prominent lawyers, among whom Judge Scarborough was well known and appreciated.

BRILLIANT JUDGE.

In connection with Judge Scarborough's professional career, it can be stated without exaggeration that he was an astute lawyer as a private practitioner, and a brilliant judge upon the bench. During the few years he was engaged in the private practice he made splendid progress, and had chosen to remain in private practice, there is no doubt among his colleagues that he would have attained signal success. However, he accepted the bench at the early age of thirty-three years, at that time one of the youngest district judges in Texas, and the remainder of his life was devoted exclusively to judicial work.

His long service upon the bench was interspersed with many notable law suits. At this point it is well to remember that Navarro county contains the oldest oil field in the mid-continent area, and much of the law of oil and gas in Texas has been pioneered in law suits arising in Navarro county. Shortly after Judge Scarborough became district judge deep oil was discovered in Navarro county and occasioned much important litigation involving particularly the law of oil and gas and of workmen's compensation. It was his duty and privilege to do much pioneer work in these two fields of law, and no lawyer can become versed in the law of either of these two subjects in particular, without familiarizing himself with the cases which came before Judge Scarborough for adjudication. The court over which he presided being one of criminal as well as civil jurisdiction, he had to divide his time between civil and criminal dockets. He was no less a criminal trial judge, and his record in the trial of criminal cases was of the highest order. It might here be noted that during his long tenure it was his unpleasant duty to pronounce the death sentence only once, "Natural Judge."

Judge Scarborough had what lawyers some time term "natural ability." He was what trial lawyers often refer to as a "natural judge." However, his native ability did not deter him from study and research. He was quick to grasp the essentials of a law suit, was thorough in his study of it, and fearless in his judgment. He held the unqualified respect of laymen because of his integrity and fairness, and he commanded the admiration of the profession because of his recognized ability and fearlessness. In his work, though terminated in his prime, he has left an enduring monument to his qualities as a judge, and in the hearts of the great host of loyal friends he gathered about him from all walks of life, he has left an enduring tribute to his qualities as a man.

Judge Scarborough was fundamentally democratic in his ideals. One of his most valued and remarkable traits was his ability to make and hold friends. Men high and low, great and humble, admired and respected him and accepted him as a man of unquestioned integrity and honor. Because he was a friend, his own friends were legion.

The dynamic personality of Mrs. Taylor was felt as she spoke, giving her impressions of several Washington personalities, with whom she was associated on her recent visit in the national capital. She brought to the club glimpses of the real persons, as she spoke of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Francis Perkins and others. In closing, she urged the club women of Texas to be active in civic, state and national affairs.

WORTHAM, April 6.—(Spl.)—

The Wortham Study Club marked another outstanding meeting this week when they featured as the club's guest of honor, Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownsville, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Tilford Hughes of Texarkana, president of Third District Federation. A most beautiful floral setting, and well appointed buffet luncheon, were arranged for the club.

J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, of Sulphur Springs, one of the most colorful figures in Texas' public life, was in the city Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peyton were in Dallas Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Childs are in Jacksonville at the bedside of Brown Collison, who is critically ill.

Miss Carolyn Vincent of S. H. T. C., Huntsville, visited friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Allen, arrested with Raymond Hamilton, will be released if their fingerprint records, now en route to Washington, reveal they are not wanted. Sheriff Snoot Schmidt said today.

The sheriff said he expected a report from Washington soon.

Snoot Schmidt expressed doubt if either of the men could be prosecuted for harboring Hamilton, as both claim they did not know who he was while they were with him.

Frank Blake, head of the Dallas office of the division of investigation of the United States department of justice, sent to the Dallas county jail today for Alred. He said he wanted to take a written statement.

Federal District Attorney Clyde Eustis had said he would bring to justice everyone who in any way shielded Hamilton while the bank robber and convicted slayer was a fugitive from the electric chair at Huntsville.

Alred, arrested while delivering a note to Hamilton to a West Dallas address, can neither read nor write and instead dictated what he wrote to the note. Sheriff Schmidt has declined to make public its contents but said it was addressed to a "contact" man, and that in it Hamilton asked the man to arrange for a meeting between the outlaw and his mother.

SOUTHWEST'S MOST FEARED CRIMINAL IS CAPTURED PEACEABLY

HAMILTON ARRESTED IN FT. WORTH RAILWAY YARDS LATE FRIDAY

HUNTSVILLE, April 6.—Raymond Hamilton arrived at the Texas penitentiary here at 1:45 p.m. today. He was immediately sent to the death-house in which he escaped last year while awaiting execution for the slaying of a prison guard.

Hamilton's knees were shaking as he appeared highly nervous as he waited in the "bull pen" before being taken to the death-cell.

He was convicted in Walker county and Palmer in Grimes county.

ing Schmid, "I'll let you have all the surplus ammunition I've got with me. Do you want to hold my coat while I empty my pockets?"

He made no motion toward the two .45 caliber automatics which were round on him.

The capture was made through a tip picked up by detectives at Dallas. The officers noticed, obviously a stranger to the district, cruising in a cab through west Dallas, formerly frequented by Hamilton and his pals.

"Get off your hat," Wald told him.

Hamilton quickly complied. He didn't speak.

Simon and Wald then took him into the prison.

WALSH, April 6.—Surrounded by the heaviest guard ever used, the transfer of a prisoner in Texas, Raymond Hamilton, captured death house fugitive, was started to state prison at Huntsville to day.

Texas governors, state prison officials, Dallas county deputies and other officers hemmed in the shackled desperado and started by automobile for Huntsville.

There it will fill his nine-month overdued engagement with the electric chair for the slaying of Major Crowson, a state prison farm guard.

The 34-year-old braggart was silent when taken from his cell and sat little. He was captured last night in a Fort Worth railroad yard by Dallas officers. He had been on the run after the South and Southwest after a daring break from the state penitentiary's death row July 23, 1934.

Before his departure, Max Rogers, Walker county district attorney, said he hoped to obtain similar execution dates for Hamilton and Joe Palmer, convict who joined Ray in his prison break, but was later recaptured in Kentucky.

Sentence Sought Soon.

Tentative plans called for sentencing of Hamilton and Palmer as soon as possible, by Judge S. W. Dean of the Tenth District Court, Walker county. Hamilton was convicted and sentenced to death for slaying Crowson during another break from the Eastham prison farm in January, 1934.

Under Texas law the date of execution must be at least thirty days after sentence is passed.

He will be served with a writ sometime this week in May.

Prime suspect was hurried through reporters, newscast cameras and magazine men to his guards.

Escaped Prison Twice

Texas courts assessed $63 years against him for robberies and killings and he was sent to the state penitentiary in the summer of 1933 to start a long term. Twice he escaped from the prison.

He headed a small but fierce band of criminals. He selected Clyde Barrow as the No. 1 public enemy of the Southwest when Sam and Bonnie Parker were shot to death.

Hamilton, Barrow, the woman and others of the gang then began a series of depredations that extended from San Texas to Terre Haute, Ind., raiding small-town banks occasionally.

He was captured last out a single shot being fired with Alvin Karpis.

Los Angeles H. Robinson as one of the country's outstanding public officials, when Sheriff ministered him, his deputies and construction officers encountered spiritual uplift of transients.

Steward, only ended up to Hamilton with a pistol and demanded he "holst' em up."

Palmer made a move to injure him by thrusting his right hand beneath the automobile that Decker shoted, the read hands up.

Palmer hoisted his hands immediately, "you're goin' me—why the scabbers ahead and kill me?"

He河 river you stand hatched."

Four other officers closed accidently, handcuffed the outlaw and Sheriff Schmidt implored the Texas prison system.

On the way, "know your boy," Schmidt said. "I want to tell Governor Verner." Allred wanted to know if he was a hero maintained, even the pride of the capture that was almost certain death, the case, when he had carried the walls widespread depre-ditions of justice sought a recent national guard armament at Ranger and Beaumont, Tex., for bank robbery, and especially strict Attorney Clyde O. Smith said the government was ready for trial in the cases. He said the federal government was ready to seek the death penalty on a bank robbery charge should any hit come in the state's death sentence against the bandit.

Wanted By Government

Ranked with him on the list of the department of justice's trio of most notorious criminals were Karpis, left, and the notorious Barker-Karpis gang, charged with kidnapping Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, and Robinson, wanted in the kidnapping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll.

Hamilton, whose every move of late had sought to watch, was clad in dirty overalls and a disreputable brown vest and hat, in contrast to the dapper appearance he maintained during his more prosperous bank-robbing days.

When caught he looked the part of a hunted man.

"Well, sheriff," he said, address-

Hamilton And Palmer May Die At Same Time

HOMELESS QUEMADO VALLEY RESIDENTS ARE SEEKING FOOD

AUSTIN, April 6.—(P)—Texas' two most notorious desperados, Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer, may be electrocuted the night for the murder of Major Crown, a guard, in a prison farm break.

Judge S. W. Dean of the 12th district court may sentence their execution some date in May.

Hamilton's appeal was dismissed and the mandate of the court issued in late October, after his death house escape had been certified. Palmer's appeal was considered because of his early capture, but the conviction was affirmed. The mandate was issued yesterday.

Hamilton and Palmer, companions in the Eastham break, engaged by the slain denim pants, Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, in which Crowson was shot, also were companions in the death cell escape last July.

Hamilton was convicted in Walker county and Palmer in Grimes county.

A CRITICAL PERIOD

THOSE AWFUL THIRTIES
Miss Forbes gives you some hints on how to look young when you are well into your thirties and how to keep your skin and body youthful over that critical period of time.

There is a period of roughly ten years, from 30 to 40, when you make or mar yourself, in the manner of beauty. If you preserve your youth, or even an illusion of youth, something which deceives no one as to your real age, but creates pleasing effect on being young, then you have done well.

If at the end of the time you look your years, it will be hard to do much about it afterward.

Of course, the twenties are a period of preparation too, for if you take care of your health and your skin and your body then, you will start your thirties with an advantage. But the women in their twenties are a little arrogant of their youth, they abuse their complexions with make-up and their hair with too much waving and feel that middle age is a long long way off. But when you are 30—begin to take care of yourself.

First and foremost, beware of a dry skin, for that means wrinkles. Soak your complexion with oil, as often as you think you need it. Open the pores by holding a hot wet towel over the face first, or else have the oil itself pretty warm when it goes on. Almond is perhaps the best oil to use.

Look out for your chin line! Strap it up, rub it with ice, massage it gently. Better yet, slap it with a face panner, and at night rub it with the richest cream you can find—in this way you avoid creepy skin and sagging muscles. A rich cream may be needed for lines that start in around the mouth—your facial expression will help them, for a suggestion of a smile, by turning up the corners of the mouth, often holds off those lines for years.

Exercise is imperative, to keep your body limber, your muscles firm, and diet is needed (for advancing years makes you a

A Daily Reader.—It is not possible that you keep the child too warm while it is asleep, which causes it to do so much perspiring? If this is not so, then you should consult the doctor, as there is loss of vitality under such conditions. It is a very easy matter though to keep a sleeping child too warm.

INTEREST GROWING IN ELEVENTH AVENUE METHODIST SERVICES

Attendance at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist Sunday school recently indicated that interest is prevailing both in the Sunday school and the church.

The monthly sacrament was taken by all, and those who took it were no doubt drawn closer to God.

Rev. Mr. Adams delivered a very timely message at the 11 o'clock hour on "Preparing for the Revival," as well as being timely it was one that exalted the love and mercy of God for all.

A very interesting and excellent program was given to the Leagues at 6:30 p.m. under the direction of Jessie Lee.

"Fulfilling God's Expectation" was the text of Rev. Mr. Adams' evening message which was indeed a truthful and uplifting message of the Gospel. Just before the dismissal, a conservation service was held around the altar in which many tools of a part, several ways were given by those who took a part.

Each and everyone is invited to attend the revival services which will begin at this church on Wednesday night, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. The young people's devotional services will begin at 7 o'clock each night. —Reporter.

REVIVAL MONTH AT FIRST BAPTIST WAS STARTED OFF WELL

The revival month at the First Baptist church started off well with 12 additions yesterday. Rev. Miller preached two fine sermons. The subject for the morning hour was "feeding the Masses for the Master." Matt. 4:16; and for the evening hour was "From the Man to the Throne." Rev. 20:11.

One responded to the invitation to the close of the morning service and at the close of the evening service. Six came by letter and six for baptism. There was a baptismal service at the close of the evening hour.

The choir sang two beautiful anthems yesterday. In the morning they sang "Open Our Eyes" by McFarlane, with M. A. Spurgoon singing the solo part. In the evening they sang "God Home" by Dvorak.

The Sunday school is proud of its attendance yesterday. The total was 649 and there were 646 present. The Sunday school sat by departments in the preaching service and every department was well represented. There were large crowds at both preaching services.

The B. T. liked quite a bit reaching its goal. Every Training Union member and individual G. C. is asked to remember and attend the prayer meetings every night this week at 7 o'clock in the church parlors. Everyone is welcome whether or not he is a member of either of these organizations. The Senior of the B. T. U. will have charge of the Wednesday night prayer meeting. All weekly services are on the usual days, with the night services being 30 minutes later than usual.
